

Kristen Thomasen

University of Windsor, Faculty of Law

A Feminist Perspective on Drone Privacy Regulation

Monday January 15, 2018

1-2:30pm, Macdonald Hall (Law Building), Room 202

All Queen's students, faculty and Kingston community welcome.

Light lunch will be provided.

Kristen Thomasen is an Assistant Professor of Law, Robotics & Society at the University of Windsor, Faculty of Law. She is a PhD candidate at the University of Ottawa and her research focuses on drones and privacy in public. Kristen's doctoral work received the SSHRC Joseph-Armand Bombardier Canada Graduate Scholarship. Kristen previously clerked for the Honorable Madam Justice Rosalie Abella at the Supreme Court of Canada and she is a member of the Law Society of Alberta.